The story of human history begins millions of years ago with the emergence of hominids in Africa. The Paleolithic Era, or Old Stone Age, marks the period where early humans relied on hunting and gathering, crafting primitive tools, and forming basic social groups. - The establishment of the first farming villages in the Fertile Crescent.
- The development of pottery, weaving, and early metallurgy.
- The advent of social hierarchies and specialized labor.

This transition laid the groundwork for the rise of ancient civilizations.
